

Private Schools offering Accredited Diplomas to Homeschoolers

The following schools are actual private schools that offer diplomas to homeschoolers. They are different from correspondence schools in that the homeschooling parent may choose their own curriculum. Both provide services such as completing forms for outside agencies such as Social Security, Social Services, etc.

- Clonlara School, 1289 Jewett, Ann Arbor, MI 48104 (734) 769-4511
www.clonlara.org E-mail: clonlara@2ash.k12.mi.us
A fully functioning private day school that offers home education with private school enrollment. Accredited by the National Private School Accreditation Alliance. For elementary as well as secondary students. Provides: Curriculum guidance and advice; deals with all outside officials with and for the family; maintains all student records; provides transcripts and diplomas; resource catalog; math and communication skills guidebooks; contact teacher. Fees: range from $550 to $600 per year, depending on number of students. Also offer CompuHigh – high school online.
- North Atlantic Regional Schools (NARS), 25 Adams Avenue, Lewiston, Maine 04240 (207) 753-1522 (800) 869-2051
www.narsonline.com
A state-recognized private school that grants high school credits for Homeschool work transferred into their school. Provides: maintenance of student records, transcripts, accredited diplomas, graduation ceremonies, counseling, help with college admissions, transfers to and from other private schools. Accepts previous Homeschool work through evaluation, custom-designed work-study programs. Most Homeschoolers choose credential management ($175/ year for undergraduate, $360 for graduate year). Full enrollment is offered at higher fee.

If you choose to issue your own diploma there are several sources available for obtaining a nice certificate

- Alpha Omega www.AOP.com – blank diploma.
- Berg Christian Enterprises – will imprint your school name. When requesting samples, tell them you're a homeschooler so they'll send the appropriate samples. Ordering in bulk will save on imprinting costs.
- Home School Legal Defense Association www.HSLDA.org – diploma comes in burgundy, leatherette case, embossed in gold with the "lamp of knowledge"; parents fill in information.
- Educational Support Foundation- personalized diploma with all information typeset in calligraphic style.